Doctor served with eviction notice

DOCTOR Ian Conway, who runs the Medical Centre in Lyme Regis, with £1.6 million of NHS funding, has been served with an eviction notice to quit the building by November 4th.

This is the latest twist in a long-running saga over the ownership of the Medical Centre in Uplyme Road.

The eviction notice follows the decision of the High Court in Bristol last Ocotober when a judged ruled that the ownership of the medical centre, opened in 1993, after the closure of Lyme Regis Hospital, was vested in the names of former Lyme GPs, Dr Andrew Llewelyn and Dr Lindsay Slater who practised at the centre until 1999.

Dr Llewelyn is still on the list of registered GPs with Dorset PCT, and in recent times has acted as a locum with former medical centre colleague Dr Forbes Watson at the Lyme Bay Medical Practice at Kent House.

The High Court case was initiated by Dr Conway and practice manager Mrs Alison Robinson, wife of the late Dr Barry Robinson. Drs Llewelyn and Slater were awarded significant indemnity costs and consequential damages by the High Court, thought to run into excess of six figures.

Complex legal issue

A statement on the Lyme Regis Medical Centre website says that Dr Conway was "disappointed with the outcome of what turned out to be a complex legal issue".

The statement continued: "Dr Conway must accept the decision of the court and as a consequence finds himself 'an illegal tenant'. He has offered to pay Drs Llewelyn and Slater a rent equivalent to that assessed by the district valuer. They have not accepted his offer.

BROUGHT up in Leamington Spa until she was 16, and having travelled to the farthest reaches of the planet, Penelope Frigon now calls Bridport home.

After studying European Business Studies with French and Spanish in Essex she lived in London working for a photographers off Oxford Street for a while before leaving to travel. Penelope visited Malaysia, Cayman Islands, Mexico and Central America to name a few, teaching English in Japan

Having returned to the UK she completed a BA in French and Spanish at the University of Wales, became a part time private language tutor and then in 2006 started running French and Spanish groups for adults in the Beach and Barnicot and the Olive Tree Restaurant. Penelope has now combined learning with food and drink, by setting up Love Learning in Dorset. Love learning offers a variety of courses for adults and children at the Olive Tree in Bridport and the Phoenix Bakery in Weymouth.

For more information visit www.lovelearningindorset.com or call 07817 302984.

■ WHAT was your favourite place you visited on your travels?

I loved them all in different ways as they all had a new perspective on life to offer. Perhaps I would choose Mexico for the relaxed and happy people that they are, the bright colours everywhere, and the fact that Mexican's speak a lot slower and clearer than the Spanish. One of my favourite memories is sitting on the pacific coastwatching whales swim on by.

■ HOW do Japanese students differ from English ones?

The Japanese people are a lot shyer. They can read and write English perfectly but find it hard to have the confidence to string a sentence together. Having said that, their English counterparts can be hesitant sometimes too. It's important to feel relaxed and comfortable in order to let yourself open up, the glass of Rioja served in my evening Spanish classes certainly helps!

WHAT brought you to Bridport and what do you like about the town?

My parents retired down here and travelling along the coast road to visit them at the end of a balmy summer evening, sold me. How could I resist. Having travelled for many years, I can say that Dorset's landscape is up there with the best

YOUR husband runs the Olive Tree, what would be your favourite dish for him to prepare for you and why?

Ha! I know people may expect me to say this, but those that know my husband's food will agree that pretty much everything he cooks, is great and I love it. He cooks with passion and integrity. He once told me that every plate he serves up to his customers he makes as if it were for himself, and that's what makes him a great chef.

■ WHAT benefits can someone gain from learning a new language?

Aside from the obvious benefits, learning a language has been proven to have many benefits that are great for all ages but particularly for those of a certain age, and that is keeping memory loss at bay, Alzheimer's etc.

■ WHO would be your three dream guests at a dinner party?

David Attenbourgh, a gentle and wise teacher; Frida Khalo the Mexican artist who had a difficult life, yet, her determination to overcome her challenges is inspiring and to round off maybe a few tunes with Nina Simone.

■ WHAT inspired you to start Love learning in

I come from a family of teachers, my mum is a piano teacher and my dad is a Doctor of Engineering and was the head of a college in the Midlands. Languages are about getting your point across, being understood, communicating, in my opinion less important is having every accent in place. It's no problem to make a mistake, just have a go and do your best. Expanding and developing Love Learning in Dorset to incorporate other tutors is really the entrepreneurial side of me coming out. Bridport and the surrounding area is blessed with a lot of creative people who quite simply wish to share their passion. I have found this with the tutors that I have running courses

Development Trust wins £100k in funding for Earth Festival art

PLANS to stage a large scale Jurassic Coast Earth Festival in 2012 to run alongside the Olympics in London and Weymouth received a boost when Lyme Regis Development Trust was awarded a grant of £100,000 from the Arts Council for four flagship arts projects.

The Jurassic Coast Earth Festival is a celebration of England's only natural World Heritage Site, and our shared global natural heritage. It will bring together a programme of arts and science educational events to encourage people to appreciate and understand the natural heritage on our doorstep, and to apply this knowledge to live more sustainably today.

The Earth Festival runs from May 4th to September 9th 2012. It is part of "Maritime Mix: London 2012 Festival by the Sea", and will have a major presence in Weymouth alongside the Olympic Games sailing events. Launched at the Lyme Regis Fossil Festival (May 4th-6th 2012), it will encompass a series of associated events in coastal and Gateway towns from Swanage to Exmouth.

The Earth Festival 2012 builds on the success of Lyme Regis Fossil Festival, which has been run in partnership with The Natural History Museum, Jurassic Coast World Heritage Team, Lyme Regis Museum and Charmouth Heritage Coast Centre and led by Lyme Regis Develop-

"One of the principal objectives of The Earth Festival is to help promote Lyme Regis to an international audience and benefit the local economy in the town and along the Jurassic Coast during the time when the Olympics are being staged," said Lyme Regis Development Trust's Marcus Dixon.

There are a number of flagship Earth Festival arts projects which will be staged in a variety of locations. These

- ◆ Lurking on our beaches will be a large, interactive and cinematic Pliosaur bringing to life a locally found fossil big enough to eat a T-Rex. This is created by engineers and artists, including Forkbeard Fantasy. This is due to perform at Seaton, Weymouth and could participate in another local event.
- ◆ Onboard a World Heritage Class flight, using a range of sensory effects and immersive video, synchronized to motion, to explore global environmental issues in relation to the passage of time. Onboard is a Hartnell Creative Communication partnership with ICCI for inclusion within the 360 degree arena in Weymouth during the Games, and will land in other venues along the Coast. It may come to Seaton between May and July.

◆ The Big Jurassic Classroom, the Earth Festival's education project, engages schools in an appreciation and understanding of our geological and natural Heritage and Candida Blaker, director of the Earth Festival, said: "As well as being fun and informative, the trust hopes the Earth Festival can help residents and visitors to preserve and protect our natural environment. There is something each of us can do, and every action counts. So we will introduce an Earth Festival Green Pledge scheme.

"The aim is to help make Earth Festival-associated events as 'green' as they can be - we can Reduce, Re-use and Recycle! So we will draw upon work already done by London 2012 and county organisations.

Earth Festival 2012 Patron and local resident Sir Ghillean Prance, FRS, VMH, Trustee to the Eden Project, said:"I feel privileged to live on the Jurassic Coast of Dorset and am delighted to be the patron of the Jurassic Coast Earth Festival, which is appropriately taking place in 2012. I know that this will help to draw attention to the rich biological history of our region. So much of the history of biology is hidden in the deposits along the coast and the festival will help to educate many people and show the importance of our coast to the scientific understanding of past and present earth history

Lyme Regis Development Trust would like to hear from volunteers to help develop and deliver the Earth Festival.

The Hub needs your vote again

THE Hub youth club in Lyme Regis has been short listed to receive a grant from NatWest under their Community Force funding scheme. If successful The Hub will receive £6,000 which will provide a toilet that can be used by people with disabilities.

To win The Hub and Lyme Regis Development Trust need as many people to go onto the www.communityforce.natwest.com website and register support for The Hub, Lyme Regis – there are 27 days left to vote.

NatWest Community Force is a new initiative that sees the bank working with local communities to support the people, projects and charities making a real difference. In West Dorset there are currently 26 projects in the frame with three in neighbouring Bridport. The Hub needs to build on the fantastic community effort that won the Big Lottery Jubilee People's Millions grant funding in July.

The Hub will be the only community building in Lyme Regis dedicated to serving young people, providing a cafe and space for creativity, performance, sport, advice, guidance and will develop leadership through its training and mentoring schemes. The building is undergoing a major refurbishment including re-roofing, young people have been redec-orating the café area, which will shortly be opening three evenings a week.

Lyme Regis Development Trust's Marcus Dixon said: "The Hub is a wonderful opportunity to create well resourced, inspiring home for the young people of Lyme Regis and surrounding areas. The NatWest Community Force grant of £6,000 will help us fit the building out to modern standards."

Doctor given notice to quit medical centre

"Dr Llewelyn and Dr Slater have served notice for Dr Conway to vacate the Lyme Regis Medical Centre by November 4th, 2011. Dorset PCT has informed Dr Conway that if he is evicted from the Lyme Regis Medical Centre, they will withdraw his contract to deliver medical services, unless he can provide an equivalent service from alternative premises.

Yesterday (Tuesday) Dr Llewelyn's solicitors, Mc-ClureNaismsith, issued the following statement: "Nearly a year ago the High Court sitting in Bristol declared that the ownership of Lyme Regis Medical Centre was vested in Drs Andrew Llewelyn and Lindsay Slater as Trustees pursuant to the Declaration of Trust of 16 June 1992.

"The outcome of the proceedings, which Dr Conway brought against the Trustees, was that he had no rights in the Medical Centre, and in particular had no right to occupy it.

"Since the Judgment the Trustees have been in discussion with Dorset PCT with regard to securing the future of the Medical Centre, and with Dr Conway as to the basis upon which he might continue in occupation.

"The Trustees have been unable to agree terms with Dr Conway, whether in relation to the conclusion of the proceedings or in relation to his occupation of the Medical Centre. Against the background of the continuing discussions with Dorset PCT, and after protracted negotiations with Dr Conway, the Trustees offered him a licence to occupy the Medical Centre on standard terms and at a rent they were professionally advised was equivalent to the rent which would be assessed by the District Valuer.

"Dr Conway rejected both the terms of the licence and the rental figure. In the absence of any alternative proposals acceptable to the Trustees, they were left with no alternative but to take steps to require Dr Conway to vacate the Medical Centre.

"The Trustees are committed to working with Dorset PCT to maintain the continuity of the provision of medical services from the Medical Centre whilst this situation is resolved and to secure them for the future.

"Further enquiries please contact James Mackie on 0207 929 3770, email jmackie@mcclurenaismith.com"

A statement from Dorset NHS said: "The PCT has been made aware that eviction proceedings have commenced. This is a matter between the two parties involved in the dispute and NHS Dorset is not involved in this.

"NHS Dorset is currently in negotiations with the owners of the building to ensure that services can continue to be provided from the current location.

"We would like to reassure people using services at Lyme Medical Centre that we remain committed to ensuring continuity of care and stability of services in Lyme Regis. We have also spoken with the League of Friends and they are aware of the current situation."

Joan kicks off to celebrate her 90th birthday party

One of Mrs Cable's son, Brendon, is a former club catain and son-in-law Ken Howells is the Seasiders' current groundsman.

Mrs Cable celebrated her 90th birthday with a party at the Davey Fort and because of her family connections with the football club chairman Howard Larcombe invited her to kick-off the game between Lyme Regis 1st team and Crewkerne.

The party was attended by most of Mrs Cable's immediate family of six children, 15 grandchildren, 25 great grandchildren and four great, great grandchildren.

Mrs Cable is pictured on the centre spot with daughter Margaret, grandson Dominic, Lee Banks, captain of Crewkerne, Adam Caddy, captain of Lyme, and referee

Signage on seafront is 'ruining quality of the town', says councillor

COUNCILLORS have agreed that a review of signage in Lyme Regis needs to take place.

The subject of signage was raised at the recent Tourism and Advertising Sub-committee meeting, when councillors were asked to discuss whether more signs advertising local businesses, similar to the one in Coombe Street, should be placed around the town.

The town clerk, Mike Lewis, suggested that perhaps the advertising boards on the railings at Cobb Gate should be reviewed if councillors were going to consider new signs promoting local businesses.

Councillor Terry O'-Grady said: "The boards on the railings should be disposed of completely. That area is starting to look like a football pitch and it's ruining the quality of the

Other councillors agreed and David Milligan, who sits on the sub-committee as a representative for local traders, said the signs outside the Three Cups Hotel also looked a "complete mess".

Councillor Mark Gage pointed out that the Strategy and Policy Committee had already decided that signage on the Marine Parade needed to be decreased and that the boards on the railings would be removed.

It was agreed that the council needed to have a standard policy for signage for businesses to adhere to.

Bob Brooker, who sits on the committee as the council's webmaster, said it was important not to make the town look like a "trading estate". He added: "It depends on the area we're talking about. The fisherman's boards on the railings at the Cobb seem to add to the character of the area and I don't find them as offensive as the ones at Cobb Gate."

It was decided that Mr Milligan would speak to traders about their need for signage and work with Councillors Chris Clipson and Terry O'Grady, who would point out the council's current problems with

The sub-committee also discussed new signage for the town's car parks to make visitors more aware of which car park they were in and what events were going on in the town each month.

West Dorset District Council's business support leader, Trevor Hedger, said that the district council had no budget for new signs in their car parks and suggested the council look at applying for "Chalk and Cheese" funding, which had helped

Council to consult architect for Bay Hotel fire escape

LYME Regis Town Council is to pay for Marine Parade shelters architects, Highway Fields Associates, to design a scheme for a fire escape from the Bay Hotel to blend in with the new shelters.

Councillors discussed plans for the fire escape at last week's Operational Management Sub-committee, where Councillor Mark Gage explained that the council had to pay for this as they had changed the levels where the fire escape met the steps to the east of the shelters during the refurbishment works

He added: "However, I would be very uncomfortable if we did anything more than the minimum cost. We should spend as much as we need on this and no more to put the levels right."

Speaking on a request from the Bay Hotel owner, Brendon Cable, to include a screened area for bins in the fire escape and to use the shelters life to take the bins down to Marine Parade, Councillor Gage added: "I do not think it is suitable. I don't think it should have any other purpose and the proposed use would disrupt the neigh-

Councillor Michaela Ellis agreed, adding: "That lift is for disabled people and should only be used for people, not

While understanding that councillors wanted to keep costs to a minimum, the town clerk. Mike Lewis, said he would like to consult with the architects, which would cost £450, to make sure the fire escape was in keeping with the shelters.

Councillors decided to consult the architects and ask for a simple, modest scheme that only incorporated a fire escape for the

Lamposts could cost £4,600

TOWN councillors are considering buying and installing new lights for the five lamp posts above the Amusement Arcade, Antique and Craft Centre and By The Bay Restaurant on Marine Parade in Lyme

The town clerk, Mike Lewis, told councillors at last week's Operational Management Sub-committee meeting that five new ammonite-shaped lamps, which the council had asked for as they would fit in with lamps already on Marine Parade and in the public gardens, would cost £17,890. He also reported that five normal-shaped lamps would cost £4,600.

Councillors agreed the ammonite lamps were too expensive and debated whether the lights were needed or not.

Councillor Lucy Campbell said lighting was needed as the path was used, especially since the new shelters had been opened. Councillor Michaela Ellis agreed, adding that it was one of the main routes into the gardens for wheelchairs and people with pushchairs.

Councillors Campbell and Ellis also agreed that five lamps may be too many, and that they might be able to afford the ammonite lamps if only two or three were

Sub-committee chairman Councillor Chris Clipson asked the town clerk to look into how may lights would normally be needed to light a similar-sized space and suggested the council then decided on what shape lamps they wanted.

A steering group was formed just over a year ago, and since then a party from Lyme Regis has visited Barfleur, and only two weeks ago six Barfleurais were hosted in Dorset.

Chair of the Lyme Regis steering group

Sheila Poupard said: "We would be delighted to see as many people as possible at the annual meeting. There is no need to speak fluent French, just a desire to get to know a small town in France and to meet its very friendly residents.

"We hope that many organisations in Lyme Regis such as schools, the sailing club and the RNLI may wish to form links with similar groups in the delightful coastal village of Barfleur.

Barfleur originally contacted Lyme Regis Town Council to ask about the possibility of twinning two yesars ago. A town meeting then resolved to progress the plan and the steering group was

Junior band is facing closure

FOR over 30 years civic and community parades in Lyme Regis have been led by the Junior Band, striding out in front in their distinctive blue uniforms.

But this could soon become a thing of the past as the junior band is facing closure due to a lack of young musicians.

By Philip Evans

■ LYME Regis hosted its first farmers' market on Sunday, which proved to be a great success.

The market was held at the new Marine Parade shelters and included stalls selling meat, fish, cakes and deserts, preserves, cheese and the Lyme-based Mighty Hop Brewery ales and ciders (pictured).

Organisers hope the market will become a regular event in Lyme.

Lyme's only marching band has been a tradition in the town since the 1980s, but it has recently suffered a dramatic drop in members.

The decline in numbers - despite the loss cost of music lessons and provision of tadituonal instruments has forced organisers into accepting that the organisation may fold.

In a last-ditch effort to save the town, organisers are appealing to youngsters aged seven to 18 to come forward.

Training restarts

A sokesperson said: "All they have to do is join. They will then be given everything they need to become a valued member of the band, inclcuding an instrument, uniform and weekly training sessions. All this costs only £4 per session."

New recruits can choose to play the cornet, drums or glockenspiel and they can also use a vast selection of samba equipment.

Training restarts on Wednesday, October 5th (from 6 pm to 8 pm) at St Michael's Primary School in King's Way and will continue for a month during which time the committee will assess the level of interest and whether the band can continue.

choose Lyme Regis at the last minute after friends recommended the resort.

Living in Perth

They stayed in the London Bed and Breakfast in Church Street, which was then a pub, and coincidentally Mr Williams recognised licensee Alfie Buck, a former Metropolitan Police officer, as they had previously worked on an incident in London together.

Mr and Mrs Williams moved to Perth in western Australia in 1968 but returned for a holiday in

Lyme for several weeks over this summer to celebrate their 59th wedding anniversary, where they stayed in the London Bed and Breakfast

They said a lot had changed over the years and Mr Williams said he was disappointed that the London Bed and Breakfast was no longer a pub!

"We're feeling our age with all the hills but we've thoroughly enjoyed it," he added.

The couple are currently visiting Mrs Williams' sister in Essex before travelling back to Australia at the end of the month.

Ducklings are back on the River Lim

A FAMILY of ducks were released in Lyme Regis last weekend in an attempt to re-populate the River Lim.

The 12 ducklings and mother were released by Roy Fowler, who breeds them at his home at Trinity Hill, along with his son Stuart and grandson Robbie from Lyme Regis.

The family released a further six ducks about a month earlier, of which they had heard five were still alive.

Mr Fowler had allowed the ducklings to grow too big for seagulls to snatch, which is one of the causes of the recent decrease in the local duck population.

They hope anyone who sees the ducks will help by feeding them bread or corn.

■ DUCKS TO WATER: Roy, Stuart and Robbie Fowler release a family of ducks into the River Lim

■ A NEW lunch club was opened in Charmouth last week by Local Food Links, based in Bridport.

The club for older residents met for the first time on Tuesday afternoon and enjoyed a roast beef dinner followed by apple and blackberry crumble.

Working alongside Magna Housing Association, Local Food Links aims to provide fresh, tasty traditional dishes, all made from local seasonal ingredients. The Charmouth club has been organised by local resident Jan Gale, Suzie King from Local Food Links and Darlene Ford from Magna Housing.

The next lunch club will be held on Tuesday, October 11th in the Hollands Room on Bridge Road at 12noon for a 12.30pm start. Lunch costs £5.50 each, to book a place contact Jan Gale on 07897 511075.

venture and whilst I'm not much of an outdoor type I have always had a sneaky admiration for those who pit their wits against the elements in the cause of exploration.

And whilst I'm sure Devon artist-explorer Alex Hartley is one of those rare individuals who relishes such challenges, I'm afraid I cannot appreciate his efforts in bringing a little bit of the Artic Circle back to these shores in the name of art.

Alex won a competition for £500,000 of funding to represent the South West region as part of the Cultural Olympiad to run alongside next year's Olympics. With 18 vol-unteers, Alex exca-vated about six tonnes of material from an island exposed by a glacier on the Svalbard peninsular in Norway.

The material, which has been loaded onto a schooner sailing vessel, will be sculpted into a piece of art called "Nowhere Island" and will be floated along the South West coast next year, starting in Weymouth in July and passing Exmouth in August. With a strong pair of binoculars, you might just get a glimpse of it as it floats through Lyme Bay. I bet you can't wait!

The story has caused a huge furore in our region following coverage on BBC Spotlight this week and prompted letters of astonishment to

Good luck to Alex for coming up with the idea but to spend half a million pounds on what amounts to no more than a pile of rocks on a raft in these difficult financial days is barmy touching on the ridicuto art, but there are better and more effective ways of spending such a huge amount of money. Take our own Marine Theatre which is being kept afloat by a £30,000 grant by the town council to stay in business, a decision which is not wholly popular in the town and which will inevitably be reduced in time. They can't get a penny from the Arts Council whose government funding, in turn, has been greatly reduced. All the more reason why they should spend their money wiselv.

There are numerous other worthy art projects and artists in the South West far more deserving of support.

What is even more galling is the pathetic efArts Council in the South West when he tried to defend the project on BBC Spotlight.

He said that over 250,000 people would "engage" with the project. Where did that figure come from and excuse me for being slightly sceptical about engaging with such a blatant and apalling waste of public funds.

And then he made the ludicrous statement that it cost £2 per person, much cheaper than a price of a theatre ticket. Those of us who live in the real world would much prefer to go to the theatre than watch a load of rocks float by. It was a stupid and naive analogy that fooled no

But I won't be one of them.

Work behind closed doors

■ IN my assessment a couple of columns ago of our enthusiastic new council I came to the opinion that the new members had made a steady but unspectacular start.

Some thought this was a little ungenerous and I have been hauled over the coals for not giving credit to the amount of work the newly-elected members are doing outside the council chamber, and I'm not referringt to the cosy after-meeting drinks at the Nags Head.

I am aware that much valuable and important work goes on behind the scenes, not in the public arena, and I am happy to acknowledge that.

I know that some very tricky negotiations are underway with the district council over the future operation of the Monmouth Beach car park, led by new policy chairman Mark Gage, and that Rickey Austin is working very diligently on affordable housing particularly in relation to the number of unoccupied premises in the town.

Anita Williams and Lorna Jenkin have also done some fine work on the fight to save our library.

This is not a new phenomenon, of course, even going back to my day. I can well remember going down to the Monmouth Beach car park very early one Good Friday morning only to find Stan Williams on his hands and knees painting in the white lines because the council had no staff avail-

It's not just all hot air, you know.

EVENT OF THE WEEK...

THE inspiring B Sharp music project in Lyme Regis, run with such infectious enthusiasm by Fran Williams, encourages youngsters to express themselves through music of all genres.

And they don't come more young at heart than veteran pianist Jack Marshall, of Uplyme, who at 97 years old showed the youngsters a note or two during the 'Busking Beside The Sea' day, part of ArtsFest over the weekend.

To the delight of the large crowd at the Marine Parade performance area on Saturday, Jack bashed out all the old favourites, much to the admiration of all who were listening. It was a brilliant idea and next year Fran is going to make sure everyone has a song sheet so they can join in.

Hopefully, there will be more of this al-fresco entertainment in the new shelters, and not just during

The busking day was a huge success, attracting professional jazz pianist Philip Clouts and concert pianist Ken Redford as well as B Sharp performers at various locations around town and involving dozens of passers-by.

They all deserve an encore!

Stop looking at 'the bigger picture' and alleviate traffic for next year

■ AS reported in the View from Lyme Regis last week (September 21st), at the recent Planning and Highways Committee meeting my letter was read out about the congestion in Church Street.

What I and others have suggested seems a very simple remedy to greatly help matters. That is to put yellow cross hatching outside the two pinch points at the Gables flats and outside the old Boy's Club. At there present merely non-mandatory "Keep Clear" painted signs on the road which most drivers (especially visitors) just do not see or ignore.

As you pointed out, when trying to creep past a campervan sitting on one of these signs recently I inadvertedly clipped pedestrian on the arm. The driver of the other vehicle just sat there with a puzmusement on his face.

Although I was glad to see that several councillors supported what many would think the obvious solution to the problem, others took a very negaview quoting "lengthy consultation process", "must look at other things", "the bigger picture needs to be looked

This is sadly all typical bureaucratic, council speak. They have been looking at "the bigger picture" for decades and will surely be looking at it

What could be simpler than the town council pulling their proverbial finger out and putting in a request to the Highway

County Council? Is that too difficult?

The hatching at these two places in Church Street would undoubtedly alleviate most of the jams in this area, and if the relevant authorities moved at breakneck speed to order the paint and programme in the painters the signing could surely be in place for next sea-

This would at the very least solve part of the congestion while councillors could then relax and stew over "the bigger picture" and "wider issues" for the next decade or so.

Council should help not hinder local businesses

■ DAVE Milligan of the Lyme Regis Traders' Association has informed me that the Tourism and Advertising Committee is considering the removal of commercial signs from the railings by Cobb Gate (see page 5).

This, presumably, will include other locations along the promenade and Cobb. This is a serious blow to traders, taxi drivers, fishermen and restaurateurs in Lyme Regis at a time when we would hope for help, rather than hindrance, from the council whom we elect.

Lyme Regis is not a simple town for visitors to explore and to be sure that they have seen everything on offer. Businesses and attractions are spread across a number of pockets of activity, few of which are contiguous. My own experience in the Town Mill is that even regular visitors to Lyme come into the cheesemonger and ask when the mill re-opened, and express amazement when told it's been 10 years now - "But we come every year...". Signs placed on the railings by restaurants and traders have all been professionally prepared on aluminium at no small cost and attempt to address this problem, encouraging visitors to spots they won't stumble across

If you want businesses in Lyme to continue to trade and to employ staff throughout the year, don't stop them trying to draw custom from one of the few points in the town that most people will visit. It may be that the committee has developed a creative solution to the problem of directing visitors around the town rather than just to Broad Street; unfortunately Dave Milligan does

I'm sure that the committee is fully aware of the current economic climate nationwide and here in Lyme. Fellow traders are suffering - particularly on Sundays, where the day trippers' spending power has significantly reduced. We look to our council to encourage, rather than stifle business and employment, now more than ever.

Please reconsider - or suggest a viable al-

'Horrified' to hear of doctor's notice to vacate

■ I HAVE heard that my GP, Dr Ian Conway, has been given notice to vacate the premises he has occupied for several years. He must leave by November 4th or if he is evicted he will be struck off.

I and my husband are horrified to hear this. It is becoming like a police state when things like this happen and we and everyone I have spoken to would like to know exactly why?

Dr Conway has been our GP for 12 years and there is no way we can complain about his treatment of us. He is excellent, hard working, compassionate and I haven't met a patient of his yet who has anything but high praise for him, his treatment and his team. He has spent much of his life helping others.

Considering there is a shortage of really first class doctors, I fail to understand the reasoning behind this act. I understand that there is a dispute over the bricks and mortar of the building but that has nothing whatsoever to do with Dr Conway's capability as a doctor, and the two should be kept completely sep-

I for one do not want to change my doctor and, as a taxpayer, I feel I should have some say in who I am registered with. After all, don't we as taxpayers contribute to the wages of all the NHS staff? Surely a compromise can be agreed upon.

If this eviction is carried out there is going to be a really bad feeling amongst the patients towards whoever comes in his place.

DORSET'S own award winning Ace Energy are the leading suppliers of solar power. Recently they have installed solar at a number of homes within Dorset. With the average electricity bill being around £600 yearly, installing solar on your roof can reduce that bill by up to 50% and provide home owners and landlords with a healthy profit. This is due to the Feed-In Tariff scheme which pays premium rates for power generated from solar power - Dorset households on the scheme are now earning over £850 every year. The tax free, inflation-proof payouts are designed to protect the UK from ever-rising energy prices and help lower carbon emissions. You may have noticed an increase in the amount of roofs proudly showing off their solar panels recently and according to Alan Seviour, Ace Energy's MD, solar has never been more popular.

With interest rates at an all time low investment savvy householders are looking for alternative ways to earn money and solar power offers just that.

BLOOMING

Now is the time to think about brightening up you garden. Winter pansies will add much needed colour and spring bulbs need to be planned and planted. Groves Nurseries have a wide range of products and a wonderful array of plants in their nursery in Bridport and their smaller nursery in Beaminister, Little Groves.

WINTER WARDROBE ESSENTIALS

Hats, coats, fleeces, gloves ... the list goes on! We all need good quality winter wear to keep us warm and dry, but at the same time we want to look good. Panic Design in Seaton offers an outstanding range of leisure clothing for adults and children, including a marvellous range of winter Tilley hats.

■ A COFFEE morning recently raised £250 towards Lyme Regis Flower Festival, which will be held next year at St Michael's Parish Church. Church supporters hosted the coffee morning at the Pilot Boat Inn, where refreshments were served alongside a cake stall and raffle. The flower festival will be held in September next year themed "Lyme Life" and organisers hope local businesses and groups will create displays to cover all aspects of community life.

Teen shelter to be targeted by police

ANTI-social behaviour, including drug taking, damage to the toilets and underage drinking, at the teen shelter in the Anning Road playing field in Lyme Regis is one of the top priorities for the local police.

PC Richard Winward, head of the Lyme Safer Neighbourhood Team, has reported that problems at the teen shelter came out as the top priority for action at a recent behind closed doors PACT meeting.

A solution to these problems will be sought by police in association with Lyme Regis Town Council, St Michael's Primary School and the Dorset Fire and Rescue Service with a report going back to the next PACT meeting. The other two main issues were the enforcement of the "No Excuse" motoring campaign, to be dealt with by the police, and unloading in Broad Street which will be examined by the town and district councils.

The meeting, chaired by John Lello, received reports on issues raised at the previous PACT gathering. These included anti-social driving, underage drinking and litter problems in the public gardens and speeding in Anning Road.

It was agreed that there would be an annual PACT meeting held in public at the end of each summer which, together with the annual town meeting in March, will give the public the chance to raise issues.

Gig club teams compete in Newquay Championships

LYME Regis Gig Club women's teams raced through high rolling Atlantic swells at this year's Newquay's Ladies Championships, which were held over the weekend of September 3rd and 4th against the backdrop of Cornwall's western coast.

As the tide dropped later on Saturday, racing had to be suspended as some crews were unable to get through the rising surf into the harbour safely. The crews caught out had to be one-by-one led into the harbour with the help of the RNLI and umpires, and other teams had to "beach" their gigs in breaking waves.

Lyme's Gig Club was represented in the championships by both the Ladies' A and B crews who raced in a field of 92 teams representing most of the South West's top Cornish pilot gig clubs. Saturday saw the Lyme crews competing against the clock in different heats to make it through to the semi-finals that were held on Sunday.

Both Lyme teams gave a strong performance in unforgiving seas with 30 seconds between them. The B Team did exceptionally well and made it through to the next round with the final results being Ladies A in 60th place and Ladies B in ioint 44th.

Teams were as follows: Ladies A Team - Diana Dixon, Michelle Prosser, Deb Hunt, Dawn Hunt, Lis Harden, Karen Tomkins, cox Henry Barlow.

Ladies B Team - Kerry McGuire, Jackie Ireland, Bridget Pocock, Alison Robinson, Gail McGarva, Jo Schmitt, cox Rex Ireland.

Men's teams from Lyme Regis Gig Club later took part in the Newquay Men's Championships will be held on September 17th and 18th

Buena Vida

BUENA VIDA restaurant in Broad Street, Lyme Regis, offers something for everyone - traditional Spanish tapas dishes as well as English dishes, including a popular Sunday roast.

Owner and chef Kirsty Moore has been influenced by her time in Spain for the theme of the Restaurant. Her parents have been living in Spain for 10 years and she regularly visits, having spent a year living there herself.

Kirsty has plenty of experience in the catering business, having previously worked for her uncle and aunty, Kevin and Carol Baulch, at the Ridgeway Inn in Small-

The Sunday carvery is served every week, with a choice of two meats with all the trimmings, as well as freshly made deserts using the finest quality local ingredients.

Buena Vida is now taking bookings for Christmas parties, with a choice of two special set menus, with a choice of two or three courses. The Menus are available now so you know exactly what to expect. They can cater for parties of up to 20, and boast an excellent town centre location.

Fernhill Hotel

THE Fernhill has continued to enjoy massive investment in recent years with every room refurbished, making a stunning spot for after work drinks, a special meal out, or snacks throughout the day. Food has enjoyed a growing reputation due to its local sourcing and cook-fromscratch ethos, at great value prices. Christmas Party and Christmas Day menus are no exception with such a great variety of dishes it is hard to choose! The Dining Room at Fernhill is the perfect place to celebrate relaxed with a grandeur which makes any event feel special but not overly formal. Friendly staff provide the kind of relaxed friendly service which makes every visit enjoyable. The Dining Room is open to book a table between 7-8.30pm every night (except Sunday & Monday) and also for Sunday Lunch. You can enjoy a la Carte dining, or the new Bar & Grill menu - from a simple bowl of soup (£4.95); Surf & Turf Salad (£11.50); Sirloin Steak Chips (£14.00); Seafood Risotto (13.95) to Satay Noo-

Harry Tate's

HAVING undergone full refurbishment and re-opened at the end of May this year, Harry Tate's on Marine Parade in Lyme Regis offers some of the best views across Lyme Bay. Specialising in Spanish tapas and Paella, Harry Tate's is a great place to get an authentic taste of Spain.

The manager and Chef Adam, has been heavily influenced by his time in Spain, where his father lived, and he spent time travelling around taking in the different cultures.

Adam has 12 years experience as a chef having worked in a variety of pubs and restaurants, as well as a hotel. He produces traditional Spanish tapas dishes, as well as some with a twist, using local produce and cooking them in a Spanish tapas style.

Lunchtime at Harry Tate's represent excellent value for money with many special offers available. You can expect great deals including 3 tapas dishes and a glass of wine for £15, or many light lunch options with dishes starting from just £5, including beautiful filled tasca breads. Business lunches are also available, with lunch time opening hours from 12-

Thursday and all day Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Harry Tate's are now taking bookings for Christmas par-

Breakfast is also now available on Saturdays and Sundays from 9.30am until 11.30am, serving continental style breakfast with a choice of Meats, Cheese's, and pastries.

Take-aways are also available and Harry Tate's will soon be offering a delivery service as well. So in those winter months why not choose your favourite pizza or tapas dishes and have them delivered right to your door?

After a successful first few months, Adam is looking for the next Harry Tate's venue to expand the business.

Generate your own energy

RENEWABLE energy technologies like wind turbines, solar panels and biomass heaters offer an alternative to fossil fuels and can help reduce your homes CO2 emissions.

There are financial benefits too. Investing in a renewable energy technology now basically means pre-buying energy at today's prices for a future where energy may cost a lot more. If fuel prices rise, your pay back would happen even

As the impact of fossil fuels on our environment becomes ever more stark, renewable energy - with its non-polluting qualities and infinite capacity - is just what we need to save our fragile planet. It's thanks to the work of engineers and scientists that we are able to harness the renewable energy available to us and make it useful. Prepare yourself for our top 10 must-know renewable energy facts...

1. There are five main forms of renewable energy: solar, wind, water, biofuel and geothermal (heat from the earth).

2. If it could be properly harnessed, enough sunlight falls on the earth in just one hour to meet world energy demands for a whole year!

3. Ever the innovator, Albert Einstein (left) won the Nobel Prize in Physics 1921 for his ground-breaking experiments with solar power and photovoltaics.

4. The geothermal energy from the core of the Earth is closer to the surface in some areas than in others. Where hot underground steam or water can be tapped and brought to the surface it can be used to generate electricity.

5. A world record was set in 1990 when a solar-powered aircraft flew across the USA in 21 stages, using no fuel at all. 6. One wind turbine can produce enough electricity to power up to 300 homes.

7. The largest wind turbine in the world, located in Hawaii, stands 20 storeys tall and has blades the length of a football nitch

8. An average wind speed of just 14mph is needed to convert wind energy into electricity; that shouldn't be too hard to come by in breezy Britain!

9. Water is the most commonly used renewable energy resource, providing enough power to meet the needs of 28.3 million people.

10. Those clever old Romans not only gave us the modern drainage system and many of our roads, they were also among the first to use geothermal energy to heat houses.

Chris Rudge Renewable Power Systems

CHRIS Rudge Renewable Power have expanded their range of generation products to keep up with the ever increasing demands of their customers. As well as keeping Sharp, Sanyo, Kyocera and Sovello Solar PV modules as current stock at the Seaton offices, they have now expanded into the Solar Thermal area, offering packages for people looking for both technologies to be installed together.

New lower Solar PV installation costs for 2011 have proved to be popular, especially as this is last year the Feed in Tariff (FiT) will be at the current higher rate. From next April, the FiT will be going down by 7% a year for new installations. Anyone having an installation this year will benefit from the current index linked payment for the next 24 years.

Solar PV systems can now be fully installed from around £6200 for a 1.3kWp system up to £12,500 for a 3.7kWp.

Chris Rudge Renewable Power also specialise in self contained 'off grid' battery systems for anyone who do not have a mains grid connection. These systems are tailor made for each installation, from a remote shed to a complete house or business.

Keep your toilets clean! There is no excuse!

few simple and proactive steps can make all the difference when cleaning your toilet. Many people and organisations (in non customer areas) neglect their toilets - possibly because it is seen as low priority and an unpleasant job. However cleaning your toilets on a regular basis can make all the difference

Using Cistern blocks which can be less than £1.00 for two can be very effective in cleansing toilet bowls providing they are replenished on a weekly basis, although you could possibly get away with every two or three weeks.

Using toilet cleaner around the toilet bowl just once a day and scrubbing with the toilet brush will also make a big difference if in combination with the use of cistern blocks. You could also use toilet bowl cleaner in urinals like described above as well.

Another important thing to remember is to clean your toilet brush also. If you do not then it will soon become dirty and contaminated with germs.

it will also collect dirty water which may well smell after time. Sinks, mirrors, and, tiles, should not be neglected also. You don't necessarily need to do this every day but make sure that it is done enough to keep it consistently looking presentable for the people who may use your toilets. Remember if a important customer or visitor to your house or business was to see your toilet it would reflect you as an individual or business and could be to your detriment.

Dream Doors Dorset is a Franchise of a National Company. It is owned and run by Andy & Shelley Stewart as a family business with reliable National branding & backing. Their expert staff will help plan your work, help you decide what materials to choose and explain what will happen in your kitchen.

Andy and Shelley Stewart, last year made it to the final three in the South West and South Wales regional heats for Franchisee of the Year Awards, Says Andy: "We're delighted to have made it this far. We know there are over 37,000 franchisees in the UK, so to be considered among the best is a real honour."

By replacing the doors, drawers, and if chosen new worktops, appliances and accessories such as plinths, cornice and pelmet a completely new kitchen can be achieved.

A kitchen facelift can save you up to 50% compared to a new kitchen and of course it's more environmentally friendly. But how does this work? A door makeover saves what is not broken such as the main structure of the kitchen including the carcasses and simply replaces the visible elements you want to change. In addition Dream Doors can also assist with minor re-designs and additional carcasses through to new kitchens. So flexibility and choice is the name of their game.

Why not transform your old or dated kitchen into something fresh and attractive. You can pick a colour, any colour, a style, any style and as the doors and carcasses are made to measure non-standard sizes are not a problem.

So whether you are looking for a contemporary, traditional, or a country kitchen it can all be carried out in only a couple of days and without the usual hassle, disruption and upheaval.

Why not visit the showroom to see what's possible and view the extensive range of styles and finishes, worktop choices and the range of NEFF appliances and Franke sink and taps.

Weymouth beer festival set to be the 'best ever'

Weymouth, "bigger and better" say local Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA) members.

Around 62 casks of real ale and 10 of real cider have been ordered as the traditional Octoberfest moves location to the Ocean Room at Weymouth Pavilion. on Friday 7th and Saturday 8th October.

The festival has been hosted by Brewers Quay for the past eight years, but closure of that venue earlier this year has forced a move.

"I believe Weymouth Pavilion is going to be an even better venue," comments CAMRA West Dorset chairman Dave Harris.

"The Ocean Room is quite a lot bigger, more spacious, with much more seating. One of the difficulties at Brewers Quay was the lack of room and the need for most drinkers to stand-up.

"Moving to the Ocean Room will enable us to increase the numbers attending by 25 per cent. The views across the bay will be an added bonus to those visiting from all over the country!"

"We were well looked after at Brewers Quay," says CAMRA spokesman Michel Hooper-Immins, "but the Pavilion is easier to reach and the new Park & Ride bus stops just outside.

"We are confident Octoberfest at the Pavilion will be bigger and better, putting money into the complex at the same time - helping to keep it open for the town."

As has been the custom at previous Octoberfests, a live band will play every evening, but lunchtimes will be quiet and music-free!

There are 250 tickets on sale for each lunchtime session and 400 for each evening session on October 7th and 8th. The Pavilion will be selling a full range of snacks at all sessions.

Among the 62 real ales ordered specially for the Octoberfest are eight from Cornwall, nine from Dorset, 11 from Wiltshire, 15 from Somerset and 19 from Devon.

A number of beer styles are represented, including a rare barley wine from the cask - Devon 10DER brewed in Bideford and normally only sold in bottles. At 10 per cent ABV, it is two and a half times the strength of best bitter!

The famed Spingo Middle is brewed at the Blue Anchor in Helston, a venerable Cornish brew-pub dat-

Among the nine real ales from Dorset brewers is the strong Tally Ho from Palmers in Bridport, Legwarmer Ginger from the Dorset Piddle Brewery at Piddlehinton and Badger First Gold from Hall & Woodhouse at Blandford St Mary - which recently won the regional CAMRA Champion Beer of Britain silver award.

Being brewed specially for the festival is Blackberry Mild, being made by CAMRA member Paul Smith at his Gillingham microbrewery. This will be the first time that a mild has been brewed in Dorset for many years and having won the Beer of the Festival Award at Weymouth last October and Dorchester this February with his Elder Sarum beer, brewer Paul Smith will be looking to achieve the hat trick!

Bill Porter from the Dorset Brewing Co at Crossways, Harvest Pale Ale from the Isle of Purbeck brewery at Studland and 6d IPA from the new Sixpenny Handley brewery.

Divided into two sessions on both the Friday and Saturday from 11am to 3pm and from 6pm to 11pm, admission costs only £3 for a lunchtime session and £4 in the evening, including a free festival glass to take home.

In the last two years, all four sessions have been sold out, so it is essential to buy tickets in advance from West Dorset CAMRA online at www.camra wdorset.org.uk, from The Boot pub in Weymouth, The Blue Raddle in Dorchester, from the Weymouth Pavilion box office or by telephoning Dave Harris at 01305 772286.

Pharaoh exhibition means temporary museum closure

A NEW blockbuster exhibition from the British Museum, Pharaoh: King of Egypt, is coming to Dorset County Museum in October. It is the largest ever UK loan of Egyptian objects from the British Museum.

The exhibition will open on Saturday, October 15th but the bulk of the artefacts will be arriving on Monday, October 3rd which will result in the museum having to close for that one day.

The team at Dorset County Museum apologise for this closure but would encourage everyone to come to the exhibition to see the results, which promise to be spectacular.

Part of a national tour, Pharaoh: King of Egypt tells the story of the ancient kings of Egypt. The exhibition includes over 130 amazing objects, many of which have never been seen outside London, from a life-sized royal tomb guardian from the Valley of the Kings, to intricate gold jewellery, granite statues and 5,500

Neil MacGregor, Director of the British Museum said: "This exhibition is a fantastic example of collaboration between the British Museum and its partners across the UK"

The exhibition runs until January 22nd 2012.

Poetry for Pleasure

the Great War of 1914-1918 but in America they are just as likely to think of the Civil War, which also lasted for four years, from April 1861. This famous poem by Ethel Lynn Beers (1827-1879) was published in Harper's Weekly in November 1861 almost 150 years ago.

THE PICKET GUARD

ALL quiet along the Potomac to-night!" "Except, now and then, a stray picket Is shot, as he walks on his beat to and fro, By a rifleman hid in the thicket. 'Tis nothing—a private or two now and then Will not count in the news of the battle; Not an officer lost—only one of the men Moaning out all alone the death-rattle. All quiet along the Potomac to-night,
Where the soldiers lie peacefully dreaming: Their tents, in the rays of the clear autumn moon Or the light of the watch-fire, are gleaming. A tremulous sigh of the gentle night-wind Through the forest-leaves softly is creeping, While stars up above, with their glittering eyes, Keep quard, for the army is sleeping.

There's only the sound of the lone sentry's tread As he trams form the rock to the fountain, And thinks of the two in the low trundle-bed Far away in the cot on the mountain. His musket falls slack; his face, dark and grim, Grows gentle with memories tender As he mutters a prayer for the children asleep-For their mother; may Heaven defend her!

The moon seems to shine just as brightly as then,

That night when the love yet unspoken Leaped up to his lips—when low-murmured vows Were pledged to be ever unbroken. Then drawing his sleeve roughly over his eyes, He dashes off tears that are welling, And gathers his gun closer up to its place, As if to keep down the heart-swelling.

He passes the fountain, the blasted pine tree, The footstep is lagging and weary; Yet onward he goes through the broad belt of light,
Toward the shade of the forest so dreary.

Hark! was it the night-wind that rustled the leaves?

Was it moonlight so wondrously flashing? It looked like a rifle—"Ha! Mary, good-bye!' The red life-blood is ebbing and plashing. All quiet along the Potomac to-night, No sound save the rush of the river; While soft falls the dew on the face of the dead-The picket's off duty for ever!

During the Civil War the same lady also wrote

WHISPER SOFTLY, STAINLESS LILIES

WHISPER softly, stainless Lilies, As you fold each snowy cup Over soldiers who are sleep, With their war-tents folded up

Bear to them our loving message In thy sweet unwritten speech,

Chime, white bells, above them softly, Echoes only angels teach

by Frank McGarry

Tell them, Roses, as you wither, Tho' their dust shall heed you not; Still by song and flag and blossom We would prove them unforgot.

Show them, Pansy's purple shadow, Through thy heart of golden bloom, How the light of deeds heroic Overlies the darkened tomb.

Passion-flow's with mystic meaning, Lordly, bannered Fleur-de-Lis. Mignonette and pale Narcissus, Soldier dust, we give to thee.

Myrtle crown and Laurel chaplet, Fragrant things that bloom and die, These, O camp of silent sleepers! Over every outpost lie.

These we leave with loving message -Crowns, the faithful Earth will keep, While the sacred dust of heroes Still she softly holds asleep.

World folk comes to MARINE theatre Salway Ash on Friday

BRAGATANGA start their autumn tour this Friday (September 30th) with a performance at Salway Ash Village Hall.

The four-piece band create an exotic and vibrant mix of world folk music with songs and tunes from Romania, Macedonia, Brittany, Malta, Mexico, Scotland, Italy, Turkey, Finland, Bulgaria and more, as well as some originals.

BragaTanga are based in Cornwall but draw experience and inspiration from all over the world. BragaTanga consists of four well-travelled and well-seasoned musicians with considerable musical and theatrical experience.

Expect a few original songs from singer and accordionist Jim Carey, who has created inspirational music for the likes of Cornwall's Kneehigh and Miracle Theatre Companies, and the Eden Project.

Although the band is only two years old they have already had considerable success with the Cornwall, Somerset and Dorset rural touring schemes.

Autumn 2011 and Spring 2012 sees the band adding Hampshire and Wiltshire via Hog the Limelight and Rural Arts Wiltshire"

They have had a many successes over the last two years at some exciting venues, including the Port Eliot Festival, Eden Project, Minack with Miracle Theatre, the International Festival of Food and Drink, Falmouth Oyster Festival, Exeter Summer Festival, Truro Plymouth and the Exeter Respect

Intimate setting for one-woman show

BRIDPORT Arts Centre will welcome Hot Ice Theatre and their production of Bed & Breakfast in the intimate setting of the Arts Centre Café this Saturday (October 1st).

The tragic-comic monologue explores the steamy underside of rural idyll. As a guest at Hive Corner, Upper Crevice's finest (and only) bed & breakfast you will meet Carol Carpenter - the newly widowed

She loves to talk. But as Carol's stories of local life, local people, and her lengthy marriage unfolds over 50 minutes you may suspect that things in Upper Crevice are not as comfortably cosy as first they seem.

Programme manager Margie Barbour commented "This well crafted. atmospheric humorous monologue is perfect for the intimate Arts Centre Café. It's a gentle story with a twist that will delight audiences."

THE DERT

ESPIONAGE thriller The Debt begins in 1997, as shocking news reaches retired Mossad secret agents Rachel (Helen Mirren) and Stefan (Tom Wilkinson) about their former colleague David (Ciarán Hinds). All three have been venerated for decades by their country because of the mission that they undertook back in 1966, when the trio (portrayed, respectively, by Jessica Chastain, Marton Csokas, and Sam Worthington) tracked down Nazi war criminal Vogel (Jesper Christensen) in East Berlin. At great risk, and at considerable personal cost, the team's mission was accomplished - or was it? The suspense builds in and across two different time periods, with startling action and surprising revelations.

ABDUCTION 12A

MELANCHOLIA 15

TWO sisters find their already strained relationship challenged as a mysterious new planet threatens to collide into the Earth. Stars Kirsten Dunst, Charlotte Gainsbourg, Kiefer Sutherland and John Hurt.

SHARK NIGHT 15

A WEEKEND at a lake house in the Louisiana Gulf turns into a nightmare for seven vacationers as they are subjected to shark attacks. Horror thriller starring Paxton. Sara Milligan Dustin and Chris Carmack.

WHAT'S YOUR NUMBER? 15

A WOMAN looks back at the past 20 men she's had relationships with in her life and wonders if one of them might be her one true love. Comedy starring Anna Fairs.

A splendid time is guaranteed for all

FIVE-piece Beatles tribute group, Sgt Pepper's Only Dart Board Band, is renowned for their storming live shows - and they're at the Woodmead Halls, Lyme Regis this Saturday (October 1st)

The band, with their own Fab Four plus Sgt Pepper on keyboards, performs the most complex Beatles songs completely live and without the use of backing tracks.

Creating a faithful reproduction of the Fab Four's greatest hits and a selection of well known album tracks, the guys in their full Pepper regalia produce a tight and compact sound guaranteed to give a splendid time to all.

The band known as "probably the most entertaining Beatles tribute in the UK" is ideal for theatre or club audiences with their humour and the tongue in cheek wit they bring to their shows.

Keeping the Beatles music and spirit alive, audiences, new, young and older, will love this band and their show. Catch them live before they become older than the originals!

Tickets are £11 in advance or £13 on the night. Doors open at 8pm (doors open at 7:30pm). Tickets are on sale at the Tourist Information Centre on 01297 442138 or from Serendip Books. 11 Broad Street. You can also book through PayPal at www. lymeregis.tv/legends.html

WANNABE comedians are wanted to join the bill for upcoming Bridport Comedy Café nights after the first event proved to be a sell out success.

Extra seating had to be added to the café for the first comedy night and some latecomers had to be turned away at the door after a higher than expected turnout.

Resident compere, Tom Glover, said the success was down largely to the attraction of local acts.

"The first night went better than I could possibly have imagined. The café proved to be a great place for comedy and there was such a buzz in the room with so many people there," he said.

"A particular highlight was the fact we had three comedians on the bill who live in or near the town, as well as myself. The audience really enjoyed watching people they know, talking about things they can relate to.

"Instead of jokes about Oyster cards and tube timetables, which you hear from the London comics, it was humour about rural life and local events."

Local acts who performed on the night were 14-year-old Beaminster schoolboy Rex Fisher, Bridport man Paul Siebenthal, pergig, and charity shop volunteer Gary Ball, who added a surreal touch to the night with his lively character "Barry Barking," a character he performed as for the first time. Completing the bill were Jason Manly, headliner Ashley Frieze. Tom is now on the lookout for more new local performers who

"There is no denying that performing stand up is a frightening prospect, especially in your hometown, but the comedy café nights really are the perfect place to give it a go.

"We didn't have one heckler on Friday night and everyone had a great response from the crowd "You only have to do five minutes and it will be over before you know it, but I promise you won't regret doing

"Word has spread already about how nice the gig was and I'm being inundated with acts from across the country who want to perform, but I'm holding off at the moment because I'd really like to see more local comedian on the bill."

Future Bridport Comedy Café nights will be on October 14th, November 18th and December 16th.

Archive film of West Bay goes live on Close Encounters website

A SILENT melodrama about drug smuggling at West Bay features on a new website, alongside modern-day interviews with local people.

The Close Encounters media trail takes people on a journey of the resort as seen through the eyes of a group of amateur actors in the 1930s and through the microphone of journalist Margery Hookings.

The film is Dope Under Thorncombe, made by hairdresser Frank Trevett and his family and friends, which was set to a new musical score by Rachel Leach in 2009.

Trevor Bailey, director of the Windrose Rural Media Trust, which created the website, said: "It was shot on 9.5mm film, the amateur's favourite film choice in the 1930s. It was an amazing project for local people to take on and has been crying out to be given its own special music and to be seen more widely."

The film, accompanied by a live performance of the new score, was seen by an enthusiastic audience at Bridport Arts Centre and Burton Bradstock Village Hall last year. It can now be viewed on the Close Encounters website where there are also photographs and audio interviews with local people who have special links to West Bay.

These include Arthur Watson, from the Riverside Restaurant, who talks about the build-up to the D-Day landings when American troops were stationed at West Bay, Margaret Grundell, who has been serving ice creams on the seafront for more than four decades and Jo Hawker, whose family have been involved in fishing for generations.

The film can be accessed online by going to http://www.closeencounters-mediatrail.org.uk. The website also features old films about Iwerne Minster, in north Dorset, and Salisbury.

New yoga classes

WE ARE often drawn to Yoga for it's physical benefits - it's a great place to start -but Yoga can be more than just physical exercise; it can benefit us in all areas of life.

The practice of Yoga combines the physical postures, the energy of the breath, mental focus and awareness. Together this can bring a greater sense of wholeness and well-being.

Aligning these aspects of ourselves can bring healing and peace within, and that which is within is naturally reflected back into the world.

At whichever stage of life you are at, whether you are seeking more energy and strength, greater flexibility and calm, or for personal development, a Yoga practice can help bring some balance to your life, can help improve health and posture, and can profoundly change the way you view the world.

Yoga can also be applied to address specific situations such as pregnancy; neck, back or shoulder pain; excessive stress or anxiety; and also hypertension, arthritis, depression and the management of pain. More personally, it can be used as a tool to search for a greater meaning in your life.

Yoga Teacher and Yoga Therapist, Michelle Perkins, has been practising Yoga for over 15 years. Originally training as a contemporary dancer, and later on as a nurse, she combines her wealth of knowledge and direct experience to lead people through their own Yoga journey.

She has the skill to adapt the age old teachings of Yoga to the individual needs and aspirations of life today.

Michelle believes that the practice of Yoga postures and breathing techniques are invaluable resources.

A regular practice is very rewarding, and accumulates much benefit for the body and mind.

Michelle welcomes all enquiries. Group classes in Bridport and North Perrott run on Thursdays from October 6th for nine weeks.

Full of character and something completely different

THE beautiful Electric Palace in Bridport has become a very popular choice for weddings with its large auditorium and original 1920s décor. The old cinema is full of character and offers something completely different to other more traditional venues. As well as local weddings, many Brides and Grooms are travelling from London, Surrey and beyond for the opportunity to have a wedding in such an unusual setting.

Gabby Rabbitts of the Electric Palace told us that 'I think couples are starting to look for something different for their wedding. You see so many photographs of weddings in exactly the same location on exactly the same spot.

The Palace provides a completely unique setting that you and your guests will always remember.'

She went on to say that 'although the building is a completely unique experience, the layout can stay traditional if preferred with welcome canapés and wine in our front reception and dining and dancing in the main auditorium.

The Electric Palace works with an interior stylist who dresses the room to your taste as well as a superb local caterer who makes everything including a range of homemade breads.

With the highly acclaimed title of being 'the most exciting entertainment venue in the South' the Electric Palace has excellent contacts in the entertainment industry and is happy to recommend live music and DJs to ensure that you and your guests have the best reception possible.

a great cause

ABC Wedding Dress Boutique has been run by family and friends for 22 years, and they have enjoyed helping ladies of all ages and desires in finding their dream wedding dress, whether their budget is £300 or £1100 or whether they are a size 8 or size 30 (sizes up to size 40 on request). They also offer a hire service on certain dresses. ABC has over 400 different styles of bridal gowns, bridesmaid's dresses, prom and evening gowns in up to 90 different colours, from top designer collections.

They have several top quality seamstresses available to alter your dress at a maximum cost of £75.00, often in other bridal shops the price of fitting is included in the price of the dress whether you need a fitting or not! Delivery times vary between 6 - 16 weeks and if alterations are needed you will need to visit ABC at least 6 months before your big day to guarantee you can have your dream dress fitting perfectly.

So visit Caryl at ABC Wedding Dresses, 5 South Western Terrace, Yeovil or online at www.abcweddingdresses.co.uk.

ABC Wedding Dress Boutique will be hosting a fashion show for prom and wedding evening wear, as well as bridesmaid's dresses and mother of the bride collections at Westlands, Yeovil on Tuesday October 18th. Doors open at 6.30pm and the show starts at 7.30pm. Tickets are available from ABC for £2. The show is in aid of St Margaret's

Charity preview of Abbotsbury's Enchanted Floodlit Gardens

ABBOTSBURY Gardens are holding a charity preview night of their Enchanted Floodlit gardens on Wednesday, October 12th, with the entire proceeds going to Weldmar Hospicecare Trust.

The lights will be turned on by actor and local celebrity Martin Clunes.

During the evening visitors will take a magical stroll along candle lit pathways through enchanted glades and can listen to local jazz band 'The Friday Four'.

Gates open at 6pm and Martin Clunes will be switching on the lights for Weldmar again this year at around 6:30pm.

The walk takes around 40 minutes however there is a shorter walk which is also suitable for wheelchairs. It is advisable to wear sensible footwear and bring a torch.

As well as enjoying the gardens, the gift shop will be open for early Christmas shopping, the restaurant will be open serving a variety of meals plus there will be a raffle.

Advance tickets are £10, tickets on the night are £12 and Abbotsbury season ticket holders £5. Parties of six or more will receive a 10 per cent discount. All money from the ticket sales will be donated to Weldmar Hospicecare Trust.

Tickets are available from the fundraising office by calling 01305 261800 or more information can be found at www.weld-hospice.org.uk/events or at www.abbotsburggardens.co.uk.

'Salty Socks of Dunkirk' on tour

SHANTY Theatre's production of 'The Salty Socks of Dunkirk' - which was performed at Lyme Regis' Marine Theatre throughout the summer - is now on tour.

It's a story about a boy. And a boat. And some socks. Set at the beginning of World War II and dripping with Brylcreem, bunting and BBC broadcasts, a young boy has the world at his feet.

There is nothing he can't do. There's no tree he can't climb, no race he can't win and no challenge he can't meet. Until one day he finds his mother crying...

With Shanty's mix of mystery, mayhem and musical mirth, stories come to life, adventures become history and socks become legend.

Last year's 'Rat's Tale' went down a storm on the Artsreach circuit and this follow-up production will delight audiences of all ages (ideally aged seven or above).

Local performances of the production include Burton Bradstock Village Hall on Friday (call 01308 897214 for tickets) and Toller Porcorum Village Hall the following day (Saturday, October 1st-call 01300 320373 for tickets). For more information visit www.shantytheatre company.co.uk

Lyme band in Seaton concert

LYME Regis Town Band will be breaking new ground shortly, with a Grand Concert in Seaton Town Hall, in aid of band funds and the Parkinson's Society, on Friday, October 7th.

Following a very successful summer season on Marine Parade in Lyme, they are bringing their popular brand of entertainment to a wider local audience.

Throughout July and August, the band entertained thousands of holidaymakers with their wide range of styles.

This concert will feature much of the music enjoyed during the summer and there is bound to be something to suit all tastes.

The compere will be Seaton's own Mary Bowles, well-known locally for her involvement in drama, music and lately with Seaton's Voice.

Mary will be bringing her warm and friendly style to the evening's proceedings and will be contributing some songs of her own, with an invite for the audience to join in.

This is a concert not to be missed! It begins at 7:30 p.m. and tickets are available from Seaton Town Hall Box Office, open Monday to Saturday from 10am-1pm daily, from any band member or by telephoning 01297 442719.

There will be a licensed bar and

Award winning roots duo to give unique show

BBC award winning fiddle player and singer Tom Mc-Conville appears at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis, alongside unique guitarist David Newey, next Wednesday (October 5th).

This duo are internationally reknowned for their fiery, heartstopping performances. Tom, who won BBC Folk Musician of the Year in 2009, is truly the most original fiddle player in the UK, blending traditional music from his home town of Newcastle with Irish, American and Scottish influences, creating a sound that has jazz, folk, bluegrass and classical influence. He has appeared alongside Stephane Graphelli, Barbara Dickson and Lindsifarne, and recorded with Richard Thompson and continues to be in huge demand.

Seth Lakeman and Kate Rusby count him as a huge influence - indeed, it was Seth who presented Tom with his award.

David's guitar playing is unique and unrivalled, encompassing both the flatpick and fingerstyle techniques with power, fluency and control. He often blurs the boundaries between acoustic and electric styles, coaxing out sounds normally associated with rock 'n' roll, jazz and country. David himself is a 2003 Radio Two young folk award finalist.

Together since 2008, the two have created a sound that is in huge demand both in the UK and worldwide, having played all the major UK festivals and concert halls.

With the release of his latest CD Tommy on Song, Tom is showing that he has no intention of slowing down, always keen to put his music in front of anyone, anytime.

They are always happy to listen, coming away from a unforgettable night. Tickets are available at £10 show with the tunes in their heads, singing the choruses, each. See the advert on page 31 for more information.

BRIDPORT - £445,000

HOLLOWAY Estate Agents are pleased to present a rare opportunity to purchase a detached period town residence with annexe in popular residential area within walking distance of the town centre.

The accommodation in the main property comprises Reception Hall, Lounge with Study off, Kitchen, Dining Room. Cloakroom/Utility Area, Three Bedrooms and Family Bathroom. The Annexe comprises Kitchen, Living Room, Wet Room and Bedroom. The annexe has its own entrance. This Annexe has been adapted for an independent invalid relative and offers opportunity for a guest suite or potential for home income.

This substantial house retains many character features including open traditional cast iron fire-places, high ceilings being moulded and corniced and all principle rooms are of excellent proportions. It benefits from backing onto open land, has front and rear vehicle access for parking, walled garden and gas central heating.

For further information or to arrange a viewing contact Holloway Estate Agents 01308 422121 or visit the website www.e-holloway.co.uk.

Caterham Cars launches new technology business

ham Technology and Innovation Limited (CTI)

• Shared technologies with Formula One and motorsport operations In the first announcement since its takeover last April, Caterham Cars, makers of the legendary Seven, has released details of a standalone engineering business, Cater-

The Company will be responsible for the development of a completely new line of accessible and affordable sportscars inspired by the lightweight, minimalist philosophy of the Seven and drawing on the advanced technologies and materials from the Group's Team Lotus Formula One and Caterham Team AirAsia GP2 motorsport opera-

In addition to the next generation of Caterhams, CTI will undertake advanced projects for external companies operating within the automotive and aerospace sectors.

"The new shareholders are committed to investing in an exciting range of global products over the next 10 years," says Mark Edwards, CTI's Chief Executive. "Tony Fernandes has been very clear from the start that Caterham needed a sustainable research and development business model in order to meet the plans the management have

"By establishing unique operating principles for CTI, we have managed to attract a world-class team of niche vehicle engineers eager to build on the ethos of Caterham

Among the first in a series of respected industry figures to join the new operation will be Tony Shute. Joining as Head of Road Cars for the new business and, as an avid motorsport competitor in his own right, Shute is credited with bringing the groundbreaking Series 1 Lotus Elise to market.

"When the opportunity to be involved with creating the next iconic Caterham arose I couldn't turn it down," says Shute. "The core principles and ambitions of CTI have enabled us to attract some of the brightest and most respected talents in their fields." Further announcements will be made in due course

The new business will focus on unique vehicle architectures, high performance engines, advanced materials and manufacturing technologies in association with the Formula One and GP2 race teams.

Speaking of Caterham Technology and Innovation, Caterham Cars' Chief Executive, Ansar Ali, says: "Creating a new product range that has the same reputation and appeal as the Seven, which delivers on the promise of accessibility and affordability, is the Holy Grail in this business. To meet the challenge, we knew we needed to invest in a new operation that would have the scope, experience and vision to deliver."

He adds: "I feel very confident that our customers will be very pleased with the products I have challenged CTI to deliver, in addition to supporting the Seven and I look forward to revealing our plans in more detail soon."

Caterham Technology and Innovation is based in Norfolk near the Group's motor

DESPITE earning a home quarter-final against Forton Rangers Netherbury manager Andy Louden was not 100 per cent impressed by his side after a 3-0 win over Perry Street Reserves.
"We overplayed at times, there is definitely more to come from this team – we are still developing" said Louden.

Ali Kamara put the Ambers ahead on 20 minutes with the pick of the goals and late strikes from Ryan Gay and Tim Hussey ensured there would be no slip-up.

But the Saints were level soon after in similar fashion with Simon Vincent scoring from the spot-kick.

Craig Lodge and Adam Swinnerton put the Tigers on top before Wood's penalty save. The second-half brought goals from Jamie Spurdle (2), Kev Wheeler and Barry Hayne as the hosts recorded their first win of the season. Murphy also had a mention for Havne in an unfamiliar full-back role.

Lyme Regis 6 Merriott Rovers 0

THE Seasiders had few problems in disposing of a strangely low-key Merriott Rovers side as they leapt to the top of the Premier Division.

The visitors went close with a rare foray soon after but Ashley Caddy made a fine reaction save at his near post to keep out a Tom Case volley.

The second-half began with Berry deny ing Bond three times, including a fullstretch tip on the post, as the pair developed a private duel.

At the other end another Case effort was headed off the line by Mark Bailey but this proved to be Merriott's last real opportunity as Lyme eased up through the gears.

Bond took his personal tally to four in two games, as he bundled home the fourth in 69th minute

A minute later Adam Caddy surged onto another incisive Rowe through ball before finishing crisply.

Batey went close to bringing up the half-dozen but his effort clipped an upright with Berry beaten.

A HEAD injury suffered by inluential Murray Legg cast a shadow over Beaminster's 4-1 win at Oxleaze.

The Rainbows, who came back from 1-0 down, were far from their best but still had too much in the tank for the hosts.

Ben Ward equalised before the break with a raking 20-yard shot.

Top scorer Andy Mapstone edged the visitors ahead with his fifth of the season before substitute Andy David, returning from injury, headed home to make the points safe. Dave Penn completed the Uplyme 9 Hinton 1 UPLYME ended a seven game winless stretching back into last season as they crushed hapless Hinton 9-1 at Venlake.

The visitors took a surprise early lead when 'keeper Lloyd Cleal made a complete hash of a long back pass and hooked the ball into his own net.

But it wasn't long before the Swallows took complete control. John Davies levelled, before Steve Gillan notched the second following a short-corner routine.

Gavin Fowler made it 3-1 soon after and an Adam Neale bullet header ensured the points were safe before the turnaround.

Uplyme manager Rob Coombe was able to introduce three substitutes in the second-half and one of these, Joel Seward cut a swathe through the Saints ranks on two occasions to extend the lead to 7-1 after Fowler had netted his second.

Club record goalscorer Fowler then rounded-off his hat-trick with Gillan com-

Afterwards Coombe gave a mention to 16-year-old full-back Callum Taylor who made an impressive debut at right-back.

Waytown Hounds 7 W&M Chinn Res 3 THE Hounds hit seven for the second week running, but it didn't always look like it would be as comfortable.

Dan Dunford put the Hounds in front

when he fired home from the edge of the area, but for the next 30 minutes it was all Chinnock as they scored three in quick succession. The Hounds pulled one back just before half-time when Tom Menaldino headed in a fine cross from Dunford to make it 2-3 at the break.

The second-half was all Hounds. Matt Read showed his usual composure and slotted the ball into the bottom corner for the leveller and then Menaldino got his second with an overhead kick. The in-form Menladino then completed his second hat-trick in a week with a fine volley.

Steve Battrick, playing his first league match for the team, scored number six direct from a corner kick and then Menaldino rounded it off with his fourth.

The Man-of-the-Match award shared by Menaldino and Dunford.

DIVISION FOUR

Ilminster Town A 12 Uplyme Reserves 1 THERE was precious little for Uplyme jointmanager Andy Cleere to cheer as Uplyme Reserves were thrashed for the second time in a week.

"We lack any leadership and played with no gusto at all. Our defensive frailties are obvious – no team should concede eight headed goals" said Cleere. Jamie Jones reduced the arrears to 9-1 from the penalty spot in the second-half.

Cleere felt goalkeeper Rob Prosser did well to keep the scorline down to a round dozen and was also impressed by the efforts of Will Francis.

But with a mounting injury-list, and Jones and Francis heading off to university, there could be more tough times ahead for the Swallows' second-string

Lyme Bantams 9 Crewk Rangers Res 1

NEW signing Pete Peacock broke to Lyme Bantams' individual goalscoring record with five goals as the Seasiders crushed league new boys Crewkerne Rangers Reserves 9-1 at the Woodroffe School Ground.

Rob Mackenzie (2), Jack Durrant and Danny Thirlwell (pen) also scored for the Seasiders who racked up their biggest score for more than two years (11-0 v Shepton Res).

LYME REGIS BOWLS ROUND-UP

Victory for club captain

SADLY, this is the last missive of the current outdoor season finishing as it has in warm sunshine writes Paul

Just one friendly for the ladies, against Seaton, who managed to secure a good win when so often this fixture goes the other way.

The men had their annual interleague friendly, when all the league playing Club members have a chance to pit their skills against one another. This was followed, as dusk descends, by supper, very kindly prepared by all the ladies who look after our postmatch hunger during the season.

League captains: Peter Eagles, Denis Perry and Richard Cridge all paid tribute to the ladies and various gifts were presented to: Judith Moffitt, Maureen Gillett, Jan Parsons, Jill Wells, Yvonne Moody and Sue Wood. Thank you very much ladies, the time you give to this is very much appreciated.

Saturday saw the end of season fixture between the President's side and the captain's side. In the end it was the Captain's side which came out marginal winners.

Again, a super spread was put on for some 60 club members, all paid for by the President and captain, and willingly prepared by Margaret Bartlett, Sue Wood, Val Cozens and Jan Parsons

LYME REGIS GOLF NEWS WITH STEVE PERCIVAL SENIORS GOLF

WITH the end of the summer season fast approaching, the Lyme Regis Golf Club Senior section staged their final monthly stableford of the season.

Although the weather was somewhat squally there were some excellent scores carded. In particular Peter Cogan (8) recorded yet another outstanding round with a 39 points to win Division One.

In second place, on count-back, was Jim Rowland-Rees (11) also with 39 points. Close behind with 37 points was Peter Hardisty (17). Peter also recorded a hole-in-one on the 8th.

Division Two was won by Peter Williams (21) with 37 points pushing Richard Cridge (26) into second place on count-back. Third place was taken by Mike List (23) also with 37 points.

Whilst some of the players found the condtions difficult, the scores were, in the main very respectable and eiaht 2s were recorded.

The win by Peter Cogan also placed him first in the summer eclectic competition. In second place was Btian Walley with Keith Gibson third.

JUNIOR GOLF

THE final round of the Junior order of merit was played in excellent weather and course conditions last Saturday. David Lyon (8) and George Yorke (10) both played outstanding rounds of golf to record a net 72.

However, David was declared the eventual winner on count-back. Kai-To-Li (12) was close behind with a

West Bay scoop Lyme Bay Trophy

WEST Bay Sea Angling Club easily won the annual Lyme Bay Trophy (Shore) held at West Bexington recently.

The hosts scored 59 points to take the title from last year's winners Lyme Regis SAC with 29 points.

Over 40 anglers from five clubs including Honiton SAC, Axminster SAC and Beer SAC took part in the 41st running of the event that saw each competitor only allowed to catch two of any species, with variable points awarded to species of fish.

A mixture of summer and winter fish were caught with cod, black bream and smoothound among the 12 species

Beaminster hit Bournemouth for six

Beaminster 6 Bournemouth 4th 0

BEAMINSTER Ladies hockey team began the new season with a comfortable win over Bournemouth 4th's with Izzy Davies opening her first team account with a hat-trick after doing likewise in the club's 2nd XI opener last week

Davies who has joined the club this season could be the striker the club have been looking for to finish the chances that so often have been squandered over the last couple of seasons.

However it was Freyia Crawford that scored the opening goal of what is hoped will be a more rewarding season for the West Dorset team who have struggled recently because of their lack of goals.

Having looked dangerous from the start Beaminster seized on a mistake in the overworked Bournemouth defence when a sloppy free hit in the visitors D was intercepted and Toni Aplin fed Crawford in front of goal.

Although the keeper blocked her effort, the ball squirmed behind her and over the line.

Bournemouth hit back in what proved to be their only real period of pressure in the match with some good attacks down the right side, but after five minutes Beaminster continued their assault on the visitor's goal.

Such was their superiority that keeper Phoebe Stewart did not touch the ball once in the whole game.

They increased their lead on 23 minutes with the best worked goal of the game. Crawford wide left put in Julia

May who danced along the byeline before squaring her pass across goal where Davies neatly slipped the ball wide of the keeper.

The game was effectively over two minutes before the break when Davies pounced on another poor ball played across the face of the D before slotting home after tricking the keeper.

May added a fourth two minutes after the interval when she completed a short corner routine at the near post following her injection, before Danni Donovan scored the fifth from close range after Aplin's effort had been blocked by the Beaminster swarmed all over the Bournemouth side as they created chance after chance, maybe sometimes trying to be too clever around the goal instead of choosing to shoot earlier. May hit the post before playing in

Davies to complete her hat-trick when she left the keeper on the ground with a shimmy, before lifting the ball over her into the net.

This year Rachel Andrews will play outfield with Stewart taking over in goal which will strengthen the defence, which once again looked solid, whilst the midfield of May, Donovan, Ali White and Becky Craddock ran the game and created chances for the forwards.

This was a great start for Beaminster which sees them sit atop the Channel 1 division, but they must not get carried away because there will be harder matches for sure.

However it is always good to get three points from the first match on which they can hopefully build.

Youth football round-up

BRIDPORT

SUNDAY was another very successful weekend of football for Bridport Youth football teams.

Bridport U 11s played hosts to Wool and Winfrith and were one up inside 90 seconds with a well taken goal from Jaydon Brown as they ran out convincing 16-1 winners.

Their passing and movement improves every week and they soon began enjoying their football as they totally dominated the first half with goals from James Cox (2), George Wyrill, Cameron Sayers and another from Brown; Winfrith getting a consolation.

Captain Thaisen Chant had yet another cracking game, play making, supporting and distributing to perfection. Daniel Elliott's contribution didn't go unnoticed either, and was unlucky not to get on the score sheet, whilst the defence played as a Substitute Kai Hawker claimed the MOM award for his energetic second half performance operating down the line where he whipped the ball into the box at every opportunity as well as scoring, as Bridport continued their superiority.

Cox added another three to make it five in total on the day; his best a 22-yard free kick over the wall into the top right hand corner, whilst another half-time sub Harrison Tuck scored a quick fire hat-trick, showing strength and confidence. Wyrill completed his hat trick with two more and Chant also added to the score.

The U10 Jets good form continued with a 7-2 home victory against AFC Chesil Devils; with doubles from Frankie Chant and Marcus Burt, and strikes from Josh Craven. Jack Parkman and Ollie Hoole the scorers. Lewis Keenan made some superb stops in goal to keeping the visitors at bay.

This was a deserved result for their hard

In the second-half Bridport were reduced to 10 men and could not hold out against the pressure and came away with a creditable 1-1 draw.

A changed Saturday game for the ${\bf U10s}$ saw them maintain their one hundred per cent start to the season with a tight 2-1 home victory against Blandford. Strong running and a perfect cross from Manny Cox allowed Morgan Napier to score the first with a powerful header.

Cole Lydon came on in the second-half and really made a difference with direct running and won a penalty for the home team. Finlay Davy drilled home from the penalty spot. The large crowd was a credit to the club and it was a great atmosphere.

The U9s had another good victory away at Chickerell. After absorbing early pres sure, Ethan Robertson scored a first half hat-trick, the third a superb individual goal ending with a left footed strike into the top

The second half was an end to end game. Bridport keeper Archie Kershaw was called into action and kept the home team out with some great saves. Harrison Weeks scored the fourth goal on his debut to close out the game. Man-of-the-Match was

The U14s finally beat a Dorchester Raiders team who have had the upper hand on them in recent years. It was a very accomplished performance and after going 1-0 down in the first few seconds, Bridport dominated for large periods of the rest of the game; Liam Sayers scoring two and Freddy Woolner the other.

WEST DORSET RUGBY REPORTS

WITH KEITH JENKIN

Bridport still a work in progress

Dorchester had a home game on Saturday last. As I had watched them just two weeks ago I did not feel that I could inflict my presence on them twice in such a short space of time, and therefore decided to make the short journey to Yeovil, and to take in Bridport's game at Ivel.

IVEL BARBARIANS 24 BRIDPORT 10

THERE was a considerable breeze blowing down the Ivel Barbarians' ground and the home side chose to play with it at their backs in the first-half.

The first ten minutes really belonged to them and they had a chance to cross the whitewash, only for the final pass to be knocked on.

They won a penalty in the Bridport twenty two also and perhaps should have done a little better with the place kick. They were awarded a second penalty after 10 minutes' play, only to see their kick rebound from an upright and, although Bridport were living a little dangerously at this stage, the first ten minutes remained scoreless.

Bridport did get into the game after 15 minutes. Their opponents were giving away rather too many penalties at this stage, and the visitors prospered accordingly and could well have scored around the end of the first quarter. They conceded a penalty of their own close to the line however and Ivel used the elements to kick clear.

The home side's rather large and lumpy pack was having the better of the set scrums and, from a five metre scrummage on the half-hour they sent the ball to the narrow side and one of their midfield took the outside curve and got over some five yards in from touch. Their kicker seemed to have an abiding affection for the woodwork and his conversion kick again rebounded.

Bridport got back on terms in short order when, from a position in midfield they sent the ball left and, as the move looked to be going nowhere, winger Smith showed considerable pace, ran round the cover and touched down halfway out. The try remained unconverted but Bridport were now level at 5-5 after 35 minutes' play.

They received a setback just before the break however when flanker Edwards was sent to the bin for persistent of-

In his absence Ivel pushed the visitors off their own ball in their twenty two and went down the narrow side where one of their midfield got over five vards in from touch. The place kick was accurate this time and the home side led 12-5 at the

At this stage I felt that, although behind, Bridport were far from out of it for they would have the wind in the second half. They fell further behind in Edwards' absence when, early in the second period, they failed to clear their lines after taking the ball into contact in the twenty two.

The turnover came and Ivel took advantage of the gap in the defence close to the breakdown and got over. Again their place kick rebounded but, with the score now standing at 17-5, Bridport had much to do.

They threw themselves a lifeline with 25 minutes left however. From rather scrappy possession in their opponents' twenty two, centre Clark made a good break and had the strength to get over close to the posts.

The kick from in front was pulled wide however and, try as they might in the final quarter, they could not break the shackles that the home pack had imposed, especially in the set scrums and Ivel scored a final try in the last 10 minutes, converted this time, to pull clear.

In spite of having some individual thrust evident amongst complete. It is difficult to compensate for the fact that your pack is going backwards at the set scrums. The sin binning did not help much either.

DORCHESTER 15 TROWBRIDGE 5

THE late withdrawal of vice-captain Mitchell disrupted Dorchester initially and was perhaps, responsible in part for their slow start, with the visitors forcing them on to the defensive for much of the first quarter.

They defended well however and, having sent Trowbridge empty away, went upfield and took the lead with a try by Newsam, converted by Bament.

It was Newsam again some ten minutes later, but this time in the role of provider. His good work created a chance for Idris Croft. The centre scored in the corner and Dorchester would have been satisfied with their 12-0 interval lead.

It was the home side who pressed early in the second-half and could well have made the result secure during this period. Chances were missed however and a period of Trowbridge pressure then ensued.

Again the home defence coped and, with 15 minutes left for play, Bament kicked a penalty, thus taking his side more than two scores clear.

They fell foul of authority subsequently however and, with just 14 men on the field, play took place for the most part in their twenty two during the final few minutes.

Finally Trowbridge's persistence was rewarded when they got over for a consolation try, with the missed conversion being the last kick of the game.

NORTH DORSET 2nd 21pts, WEYMOUTH 47pts

THE Weymouth first side had to come from behind in this Dorset & Wilts league Division One (South) encounter, but finally stretched away to win decisively.

They were caught cold in classic fashion as the home side nipped in for a converted try, touched down by the posts, before the game was a couple of minutes old. They settled however and came back with a converted effort of their own after speedy winger, Will Quick had cut a good line and touched down for Max Boudoir to convert.

North Dorset were most certainly still in the game at this stage and regained the lead with a penalty after Weymouth had infringed, but a second Quick try, again converted by Boudoir after 20 minutes, gave the visitors a lead that they were never to relinquish.

A second home penalty did narrow the gap, only for a try by hooker Reece-Kimble, after he had eluded his would-be tackler, and again converted by Boudoir, saw Weymouth stretch away.

They scored again before the break. Vallance hacked on and Boudoir won the touchdown race. He converted his own score to give his side a 28-13 lead at the change round.

More was to come in the second period and, after North Dorset had again narrowed the gap with a penalty goal, Quick scampered in for his hat trick try to seal the win at 16-

Boudoir was having a good day with the boot but he could not add the extras to the next score, touched down by Wilson after the centre had run in from the home 10-vard line. He made ample amends soon after however when he converted Weymouth's final try touched down by skipper Julian Quick.

The visitors were out of sight now and, although North Dorset got over for an unconverted try late on, it was little more than a consolation score.

Both the Weymouth second and third sides took to the field, with the seconds running out 17-0 winners over New Milton, while the thirds went down at Poole.

PUDDLETOWN 19 SWANAGE & WAREHAM 4th 10 PUDDLETOWN, keen to build on the successful start to their league season, entertained Swanage & Wareham fourths in a friendly game. The home side started well and took the lead with a try by Marcus House who was first to react after a relieving kick out of the visitors' defence had been charged down.

Skipper Yeatman added the extras but was unable to convert a subsequent touchdown by hooker, Michael-Beale. The visitors were by no means done however and reduced the arrears with an unconverted effort just before the break, leaving the half-time scoreline at 12-5.

Home fitness levels began to tell in the second period how-ever and Puddletown stretched away with a Martin Spicer try, scored from close range after good work by his colleagues in Yeatman again converted to take his side clear and, although the visitors did impose some pressure later in the game, an unconverted try, scored after a breakaway, was their sole reward as Puddletown held on for the win.

Note: On Sunday 9th October the PUDDLETOWN club host the fifth annual "Piddle Dash", a 6km sponsored run for men and boys in aid of Prostate Action and the locally based Weldmar Hospice Trust. So far the event has raised £25,000 and the hopes are that that the total can be pushed beyond £30,000 this year.

The event starts at 10.30am and includes a barbeque, a licensed bar and, new this year, a men only cake competi-

Entry is free and further details, together with Registration and Sponsorship forms can be found on the club's website at www.puddletownrfc.org.uk.

THE leagues have a Saturday off next week and local cup competitions come to the forefront.

DORCHESTER have a first round bye and are therefore, without a fixture. Their seconds however have a nice juicy encounter when they entertain Weymouth seconds.

WEYMOUTH firsts too are on the road and will travel with some confidence to CALNE who reside in the Northern section of the Dorset & Wilts first division and who have not enjoyed nearly as pleasing a start to their campaign as

BRIDPORT, likewise play away from home, and they too have a game that they should win, for their opponents VER-WOOD lie in the division below

PUDDLETOWN travel to POOLE for the second time this season. On the previous occasion they returned having won by a single point. They will have to be at their best if they are to repeat that performance.

Bridport seconds should travel to Colerne; but their oppo nents might not be able to play host, and the venue therefore is at present undecided.

Handicapper finally makes his mark

THE HANDICAPPER finally caught up with Bob Buckler-trained Ethiopia and Cullahill after a very successful summer writes Stu-ART BROOM.

"If there's one thing certain in racing it's that the handicapper will finally catch up with you," said Buckler after the Nick Elliott duo had run at Newton Abbot in midweek. The pair have had an outstanding run of form since the spring; the end of last season's national hunt season and the begin of the new one.

Unfortunately it may mean that Cullahill will need another throat operation after he choked badly in the Tribute Handicap Chase over 31/4 miles and had to be pulled up by AP McCoy after featuring well until the last half mile

"He once again jumped very well but the ground was actually much softer than they claimed. Having been used during the summer, the surface has become badly chewed up through watering, and although the surface was flat, it was sticky and he eventually tired and choked badly. He has had one operation, but with the weather forecast to be good for the next few days we may give him another run with a tongue tie. Failing that we may have to look at another operation during the winter.

"He really needs firmer ground and could benefit from a more galloping track, despite the fact he has won at Newton Abbot." Ethiopia meanwhile was well placed just behind the leaders and briefly moved into second as they started to turn for home, but could not match the first three for speed but ran on well to Ethiopia has won four of his eight races during the last five months and been placed in two others, whilst Cullahill has won three of his nine races and been placed in four others.

Dorchester U17 12 Bridport 26

THE local bragging rights returned to Bridport as they avenged their earlier loss away to Dorchester with two sparkling tries and a fine exhibition of goal kicking.

It was a win built on a solid perform ance from the forwards who dominated the set-pieces and were made to work hard in defence, with the backs exploiting many of their opportunities. Indeed cooler heads and better communication would have given the blues at least two or three more tries.

However, Bridport exerted good pressure right from the start and went ahead when Bob Lester-Card kicked a penalty from wide out for offside.

They immediately increased their advantage when the visiting pack won possession against the head and James Hansford broke to set up Will Haggerty to run from halfway and score under the posts, Lester-Card converting.

However Dorchester hit back to cause panic in the Bridport defence and they drove a maul from a line-out and having dragged in the defenders, put the ball wide and scored in the corner.

An impressive penalty by Lester-Card from the 10m line completed the firsthalf scoring.

Lester-Card, kicking into the breeze, made it look all too easy as he kicked another penalty form the 10m line, before Bridport scored their second try from another breakout, with Haggerty releasing Dylan White as the full-back committed to the tackle, for an easy try and straight forward conversion.

Lester-Card completed the scoring with a penalty after Dorchester were penalised for a deliberate knock-on for a well earned Bridport victory.

Magpies fail to get out of the blocks

Dorchester Town 1 Weston-super-Mare 3 - Att: 367 Tuesday, September 20th

WESTON-super-Mare won this FA Cup rehearsal at a canter as a misfiring Magpies failed to show any of their re-cent good form on a damp and miserable evening at The Dorchester went into this Blue Square South match full of confidence on the back of two good wins and a narrow defeat at Basingstoke where they just failed to overcome playing the last hour with ten men.

After a sterile start to the match in pouring rain that made the surface tricky, the Seagulls took the lead on 18 minutes in the first serious effort on either goal; Dayle Grubb's free-kick being converted at close-range by Ben Hunt who was afforded a second chance after his first effort had been blocked by Nick Jordan.

The Magpies finally got a shot on target four minutes later when Nick Crittenden found himself on the edge of the box in space, but his full blooded volley was straight at Seagulls keeper Lloyd Irish.

Jordan was forced to turn away Kane Ingham's curling shot from the left hand angle of the box before Rico Wilson just failed to reach Crittenden's driven cross having been fed by Ryan Moss.

Weston had Chris Young and Jamie Laird booked before in the ten minutes before the interval and Dorchester's Moss and Ben Dickenson joined them early in the second half.

Weston sealed the points with two goals in three minutes before the hour.

A guick throw-in close to the left-hand corner flag caught the Magpies defence off guard and gave Ingram the chance to turn and beat Jordan with a curling shot into the top near angle of his goal.

Kyle Critchell then became the fifth name in Iain Parsons book and from the resultant free-kick Jamie Price found room to guide Grubb's free kick over the head of Jordan who got a hand to the ball, for his fourth goal of Frustration got the better of the Magpies players as Steve Devlin and Nathan Walker were yellow carded along with Nabi Diallo and Price of Weston as the game turned into a turgid spectacle, but there was consolation for the home fans when Moss pulled a goal back two minutes from the end. He rose highest to Neil Martin's free-kick resulting from Price's foul to direct his header beyond Irish and into the corner of the net.

"A miserable night and a miserable game," was disap pointed manager Ashley Vickers apt summing up. "We didn't play well. The previous three games had been positive and although we lost at Basingstoke on Saturday, the performance was really positive and on another day we could have got something out of the Vickers was critical of some of the players' choice of footwear and annoyed that all three goals were the result of set-pieces.

As a result manager Ashley Vickers recalled keeper Alan Walker-Harris and gave a first start to Portsmouth loanee Lewis Tallack at full-back Dorchester were keen to erase the memory of Tuesday's 3-1 dismal home defeat by Weston-Super-mare, and the game began at a high tempo with both sides eager to get the ball forward.

Moses Ademola had a great chance to put the Cards ahead on five minutes when Derek Duncan's free-kick was headed on by Wayne Gray but the striker who has already scored seven times this season, missed his kick from ten yards with just Walker-Harris to beat.

The Magpies responded three minutes later when Steve Devlin's vicious drive from the 22 yards was blocked. The ball ran to Ben Dickenson whose driven shot-cum-shot saw Ryan Moss slide in but his shot under pressure just cleared the bar.

Devlin almost scored a sensational goal on 17 minutes following Woking skipper Mark Rickett's foul on Moss five yards inside the home half.

The combative midfielder, spotting Cards' keeper Aaron Howe stood on the penalty spot, immediately launched a 60-yard free kick that just cleared the Cards crossbar with Howe stranded.

Neither side were finding it easy to breach the others defence, and shots at goal were rare, although Gary Hill's side did look the more confident, with Dorchester finding it difficult in the last third of the pitch.

Paris Cowan-Hall fired in an angled shot that Walker-Harris pushed up in the air before catching and Gray show wide from 20 yards as half-time approached.

Ademola had another chance in added time when former Magpie Giuseppe Sole's corner dropped in the goal-mouth where Harris-Walker did well to block Joe McNerney's close range effort which looped up in the air. However the former Brentford striker headed the rebound over the crossbar

Dorchester could not be faulted for their endeavour, but Woking turned the screw after the break and Jack King fired past the post from 20 yards before Vickers replaced Dickenson with Rico Wilson and reverted to from a 4-5-1 formation to 4-4-2.

Walker-Harris dived low to cut out Ademola's driven cross from the byeline before the striker finally broke the deadlock on 62 minutes with a well struck winner

Duncan picked out Ademola who controlled the ball and took a step aside, before burying his drive beyond the keeper's right hand with the outside of his right boot from the edge of the box.

The introduction of Jamie Symes for Tallack saw the Magpies formation change once again to 4-3-3 as Vickers looked for the equaliser, and when Moss outran McNerney, the speed of his cross took Howe by surprise and the ball cannoned off his forearm into the air and was

The game opened up a little in the last 15 minutes and a quick break following a Dorchester corner saw CowanHall fire in a 35-yard shot that Walker-Harris had to push

Sub Elvis Hammond, with oceans of space by the right corner flag, pulled the ball back to Ademola who chested the ball down before driving a shot across goal and off the outside of the far upright.

The Magpies had a shout for a possible penalty turned down when Duncan appeared to push over Moss as they tangled on the right side of the penalty area before that man Ademola had one final chance, but after nodding the ball past Walker-Harris he was thwarted by Neil Martin who had got back to head the ball away from danger.

Dorchester cannot be faulted for their effort and application and their performance was far superior to midweek, but Woking, the best side to have visited The Avenue this season, were cohesive, collected and classy and worth their win.

From the Magpies perspective Tallack looked very solid despite his lack of match practice whilst Walker-Harris took the opportunity to show his manager what good

In addition to a couple of smart saves, his anticipation in racing from goal to support his defence and clear his lines was first class.

ANDOVER NEW STREET 3 BRIDPORT 6 - ATT: 69

Saturday, September 24th BRIDPORT eased through to the first round of the FA Vase following this high scoring game and now face Christchurch who beat Horndean, conquerors of the Bees three weeks earlier in the FA Cup.

Having raced into a three goal interval lead, the Bees appeared to take their foot off the accelerator which allowed their hosts to snatch two goals and haul themselves back in the tie.

The score however does not reflect the number of chances Bridport created and but for some bad luck and good goalkeeping the result could have been much Bridport started brightly on a pitch that was not the best surface which made control difficult, and led to three or four chances going begging through poor control and over elaboration.

They made the breakthrough on 28 minutes when Matt Condliffe volleyed home from the edge of the box before Dan Wise added a second two minutes later when he crashed home a typical 30 yard shot that beat New Street's 'keeper Cray Sams.

Sam Charles was then thwarted twice in quick succession. First he chested down the ball with his back to goal, but Sams rushed from his goal to smother his attempted shot, before producing an exquisite overhead kick that beat Sams on its way to the top corner.

However defender Bobby Swayne sprung into action to tip the ball to safety and was promptly red-carded, and although Sams blocked Wise's spot-kick, the midfielder potted the rebound.

Although Russell Legg had already been replaced with a suspected hamstring injury, manager Trevor Senior, with the game apparently won also replaced Chris Clarke who had only passed a fitness test before the game.

However New Street hit back on 56 minutes when Isaac Sedu scored.

The hosts broke quickly after defending a free-kick and with a defender trying to usher the ball back to Sam Filkins the lively striker nipped between them as the Bees keeper stood on the edge of the box waiting to collect.

Tom Richardson spurned a good chance before Sam Charles hit the underside of the bar. The ball was immediately punted up field and Matt Styles beat Filkins with a lob that crept just inside the upright to reduce the deficit to one.

Bridport's response was immediate and Shane Evans had a shot blocked whilst Sams denied Sam Charles with two excellent saves.

Finally Richardson got on the scoresheet on 70 minutes when Sams could only palm Evans cross from wide on the right and the former Terras converted at the far post.

Sub Robin Jones, in only his second game for the senior side, his first two seasons ago, added a fifth to put daylight between the sides with 11 minutes left when he beat the offside trap to race through and lob Sams.

Styles pulled one back with a good individual goal but Sam Charles finally put the game to bed in the final seconds when he raced through from the halfway line to keep his nerve to slide the ball past Sams.

Bees bag points after lethargic start

BRIDPORT RESERVES 2 TINTINHULL 0

BEES joint-manager Steve Crabb admitted this was not the prettiest of games and that his side had looked lethargic in what was a fairly turgid first-half with neither side looking likely to score.

However with his side taking on board the need to get the ball in behind their defence, they scored twice in the first 15 minutes of the second-half to seal the points.

"It wasn't the prettiest game to watch. They had three big lads at the back and we were trying to play through them and it wasn't working," said Crabb.

"We needed to use the width of the pitch and get behind them which is what we did after the break and as a result scored two goals fairly quickly which killed the

"We were quite comfortable then until about 10 minutes from the end when to be fair they had a go at us and had us on the ropes a bit but Jamie Fry brought off a couple of excellent saves."

Carl Bulman got the ball rolling by crossing from the eight and when the ball ran free as Ben Clarke challenged the keeper, Roger Cummings was on hand to snap up the loose ball to score. The second came on the hour when Jamie Morgan's right wing shot-cum-cross from 25 yards found the top corner of the net.

Bridport had chances after that which they spurned giving Tintinhull the opportunity of getting back in the game, but Fry, recovered from the knee injury that saw him replaced at halftime last week, made sure there were no late scares.

◆ BRIDPORT Thirds lost their top-of-the-table clash with Corfe Mullen United who maintain their unblemished start to the season with a 3-1 victory.

Ben hits all the targets

A BEAMINSTER School pupil who only took up archery seriously 18 months ago is already on target to be-coming one of the country's top archers and has already achieved national champion status.

Ben Eve, a Year 8 pupil at Beaminster School, joined Bride Valley Junior Archers only 18 months ago following a short introduction with archery at an after school club run by coach Paul Kingston.

Since then he has gone from strength to strength in his achievements, having travelled the country competing in the barebow form of the sport in both Target and Field competitions where he has been successful in gaining six national, and countless regional and county records.

Ben was selected as one of the seven 'Team England' members at the National Junior Field Championships held in the Lake District in August, and followed this earlier this month by representing Dorset and Witshire at the Junior Inter-counties Championships.

Along with club members Reuben Kingston, Jenny

Stazicker and William Stazicker, the team finished second overall with Ben successfully winning the barebow Juniors U18 event.

Eve is currently the Junior National U14 indoor and U14 Outdoor Barebow champion, and also won the British U14 Indoor Barebow Championship last November where he was also positioned 7th in the World for his performance at the event in his respective cat-

This year he has been awarded the prestigious Junior Master Bowman (JMB) award for his U14 age group by achieving qualifying scores at Record Status

The JMB is a classification awarded by Archery GB, the UK national governing body for archery that recognises the top 1½ per cent of archers that regularly attend competition events for their respective bow style, gender and age group.

Ben is planning to continue his success with many planned events in the next coming months.

acock breaks record

LYME Regis' superb start to the new season continued on Saturday with big wins for both the first team and the Bantams

Joe Bond, restored to the central striking role which brought him 21 goals two seasons ago, scored twice as did Steve Batey as the Seasiders took apart Harvey Jennings' new-look Merriott Rovers to the tune of 6-0.

But the star of the day was undoubtedly striker Pete Peacock who became the first Lyme Bantam to score five goals in a game the team demolished Crewkerne Rangers Reserves 9-1. Peacock eclipsed the previous record of four jointly held by Adam Caddy, Lance Turner and James Maidment.

Chris Simpson and his side welcome Chard United Reserves at the weekend whilst the first team travel to struggling Perry Street.

jury-time winner to defeat Crossways in the Final at Bridport.

It was a mixed weekend for the Uplyme camp. The first team hammered Hinton 9-1 with Gavin Fowler edging closer to the 400-PSL goal mark with a hat-trick.

At the same time the Reserves were annihilated 12-1 at Ilminster A and have now shipped 23 goals in a week. The team head west to take on Farway United Reserves on Saturday.

Charmouth are the visitors to Venlake on Saturday for a Division Two derby game with the Uplyme first XI. The Robins were beaten 6-2 at Pymore last weekend meaning the region's football fans witnessed 40 goals in just five games - now that's entertainment!
